

A mix of water, snow and wind wallop Duxbury

Police Sgt. Dennis Symmonds keeps traffic off flooded Washington Street by Snug Harbor. Symmonds said he's never seen the water come up this high.

Saint George Street was closed due to the flooding of Blue Fish.

A Duxbury fire truck on scene by the Blue Fish bridge on Thursday.

A snow-decorated tree, that normally sits on the bank of Blue Fish, was in the flooded bay on Thursday.

Snow plows were out in force on Thursday, Jan. 4

Photos by Karen Wong

Cove Street and many streets in the Blue Fish area were flooded on Thursday.

Historically high tides brought flood waters across Washington Street at Snug Harbor.

Winds, water and snow blew wildly on Marshall Street.